A Tribute to Judge W. C. Bell.

By unanimous consent Judge J. W. Alcorn was chosen as special judge and the following testimonial adopted and spread upon the records of the court:

Upon the voluntary retirement of Hon. W. C. Bell as circuit judge of the 13th judicial district of Kentucky, we, the members of the Lincoln county bar, offer to him and the constituency he has served, this expression of our personal and professional regard for him as a learned and upright judge, who, in the discharge of his official duties, has at all times exercised his authority with that dignity and courtesy becoming the gentleman of refined instinct, and who in the hearing and determination of all questions in controversy before him, has impartially, as a trained lawyer and scholarly judge, applied the maxims of equity and the rules of law.

As an endearing evidence of our appreciation of his worth, we deliver to his hand this declaration of our esteem, and cause a copy of the same to be spread upon the permanent records of this court.

J. W. Alcorn, M. C. Saufley, J. B. Paxton, P. M. McRoberts, J. S. Owlesley, Jr., Harvey Helm, J. N. Saunders, F. F. Bobbitt, W. S. Burch, G. B. Saufley, K. S. Alcorn, Thomas H. Shanks, W. H. Shanks, G. D. Florence, T. J. Hill, Jr.

Many Murders; Few Hangings.

We read a great deal of the murderous disposition of Kentuckians, but after all they are not much worse, if as bad, as other people. Even the State of William Penn has a county, Northumberland, which ranks second in the United States for murders, and first in the failure to punish them. In the last 150 years there have been 120 first degree murder verdicts and yet it will only have its fourth execution next Thursday, provided there should not intervene a reprieve in the meantime, a contingency that is not unlikely. Of the 120 sentences to death over half of the victims found refuge in the insane asylums, some were pardoned, others committed suicide and a number died in jail pending re-trials and long drawn out appeals. The 120 convictions with the death penalty represent but a small percentage of the homicides, many of the murderers having been acquitted and a large number getting second degrees and lesser verdicts. Kentucky has to take a back seat when comparisons are made with this Pennsylvania county.—Lexington Gazette.

Forced into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, dead dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1, trial bottle free, guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

The total value of cotton exports from the United States for the month of October, 1909, as shown by a bulletin issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor, reached the enormous sum of $88,883,350. In no one month previously have such exports ever reached the eighty million mark.

LANCASTER COURT.—There were about 150 cattle on the Lancaster market yesterday, most of them of an inferior grade. Prices ranged from 2c for butcher stuff to 4c for yearlings and two-year-old steers. The mule market was very active and high prices ruled. Nothing much in horse trading was done. The crowd was large.

BARGAIN.—354 acres of good land, of which 100 acres is bottom land, eight-room dwelling, two good stock barns, new tobacco barn, 36x96, ice house, buggy house, two corn cribs, etc., two good cisterns, the whole farm being well watered, well fenced and lays well. Will sell as a whole or cut 200 acres with improvements, to suit purchaser, which includes 100 acres as fine bottom land as there is in the county. This is a bargain. See L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

PREACHERSVILLE.

J. K. Sutton went to Lancaster to see his sister, Miss Fannie, who has been quite ill.

Walter Jordan was shot in the face a few days since by careless hunters. The wounds are slight but came near striking his eyes.

We might look 40 States over and not find a more obliging, careful and punctual church sexton than the Baptist church has in the person of William Ranke. He is at his post, hot or cold, rain or shine.

Mrs. Judith McCall, of Brodhead, visited Mrs. E. Foley. Misses Fannie and Ella Thompson, of Danville, visited Miss Hallie Brown in Garrard. John Carpenter and family, of Oklahoma, are visiting the families of W. H. Cummins and S. D. Carpenter. Phil Thompson and wife were at J. L. Kennedy's Sunday. James Curtis and wife, of Garrard, visited B. T. Lumsford and wife. Miss Fannie Carpenter was the attractive guest of Mrs. W. H. Cummins.

A few days since we overheard a young man, still in his teens, telling another of the same age how he was going to put a ladder to the window of his sweetheart and carry her off if the "old man don't come my way." The little fellow's gestures were most vehement and fire flashed from his eyes. While we feel almost a brotherly interest in these youngsters, we fain would put "bee" in the old man's bonnet. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

John Rigsby bought 53 cattle in Cayce at from 3½ to 4½c. A. J. Yokely bought of W. H. Cummins a pair of four-year-old mules for $350; of Geo. O. Spoonamore a pair of yearlings for $325, and a mule each from W. H. Brown, P. B. and J. F. Thompson for $140. Charles Rigsby sold a four-year-old harness mare to Dr. J. A. Harmon, of Crab Orchard, for $185.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years.

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., "was Dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up, I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Trouble, Lame Back, Female Complaints, it's unequalled. Only 50¢ at Penny's Drug Store.

The preacher—My poor friend, do you attend divine services regularly?

The Tramp—Yes, sir, when I'm in jail.

It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Then help them, don't drag the stomach or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. REWARD.

Having suffered considerable annoyance and damage from outlaws, in breaking gate latches and tearing down and destroying my gates, on the county road that runs through my farm, I have concluded to offer a reward for information leading to the conviction of the persons responsible. I will therefore give the sum of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any party or parties, that have broken the latches on any of my gates, or that have torn down or torn away any of my gates, or the wooden board that runs from the Hustonville turnpike to the Millidgeville turnpike, through my farm; and I will give the same amount for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any party or parties who in the future commit any of the above offenses.

Witness my hand this 10th day of August, 1909.

T. J. HILL, SR.
